Summer Financial Aid Policy Statement

Eligibility for summer aid

- In order to receive financial aid during the summer term, students must be enrolled at least half time in an approved program of study. Exceptions to the half time enrollment requirement are possible for students receiving Federal Pell Grants and PTAP.
- Eligibility for summer financial aid is based on the information on the student's Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) along with the student's financial aid history. Summer aid applications cannot be processed until the JSRCC Office of Financial Aid has received the results of the student's FAFSA.
- Students must meet the standards of the College Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) policy. For currently enrolled students, we will reevaluate your SAP at the end of the Spring term. Students not meeting the SAP standards become ineligible for aid as of the Summer term and their financial aid will be canceled.
- Financial aid can only consider the first 30 hours of developmental coursework in your enrollment for financial aid purposes. You may take more than 30 hours, but they cannot be used to determine your financial aid enrollment status.

Limited summer financial aid

- Students enrolled at least half time during the summer term may be eligible for a Federal Stafford Loan if they did not borrow the maximum allowed by their academic grade level during the fall and spring terms or if they advance a grade level during the academic year.
- Students may be eligible for a Federal Pell Grant for the summer term.
- Students should make sure to complete #2 on the Summer Financial Aid Application if they attended and/or received financial aid from another school during the academic year.
- Limited state grant assistance has been reserved for the summer term and will be award to on-time filers first in date order of when the Summer Financial Aid application was received.

Enrollment changes

- This summer the college will offer courses in one 10-week session, and two 5-week sessions. If your enrollment is divided between two sessions, you must still "earn" your financial aid by attending courses in all your sessions. The JSRCC Office of Financial Aid will conduct an eligibility audit after the last summer session has started. If a student has dropped below half-time enrollment or never attended, all federal loans for the summer term will be canceled; if the student received a Federal Pell Grant, it may also be reduced or canceled. The student will have to repay all reduced or canceled financial aid that had been credited to his/her JSRCC student bill.
- If a student withdraws from all classes before completing 60 percent of the term (as measured in calendar days), financial aid eligibility must be recalculated based on the federal Return of Title IV funds formula. Any "unearned" financial aid must be returned to the appropriate federal program(s). The student will have to repay any reduced or canceled financial aid that had already been credited to their JSRCC student bill.

Disbursement of financial aid funds and living expense refunds

- Summer Financial Aid funds will be credited to students' JSRCC bill beginning in mid June.
- When financial aid funds exceed college charges (tuition and bookstore), students receive refunds to assist with educational or living expenses. We expect refund checks to be mailed by mid to early July. Please plan you finances accordingly.

Other important factors that could affect Summer Financial Aid

- If you miss ANY of the financial aid DEADLINES, your Summer Financial Aid Application may not be processed before summer classes begin. This means you will have to pay for tuition and books from personal funds.
- Register for Classes. Sign up for all the classes you plan to take by the end of late registration. If you register (or drop) from classes after late registration, you must contact Central Financial Aid so we can adjust your awards.
